

Ryde Saints Football Club

Code of Conduct

Part 1: Club-Wide Founding Principles

Introduced by club founder Des Murphy in 1995

- Honesty with each other is of the highest importance.
- Players of all ability are made welcome at training.
- 100% effort is always expected on the field.
- All commitments should be made and kept wherever possible.
- Enthusiasm should influence team selection, with managers taking into account who is at training, and how they perform while there.
- Self-discipline in language and conduct should be maintained on and off the field.
- Ryde Saints should seek to be as professional as possible at all times, with full squads, linesmen and officials available, all persons on time, correct kit ready, and facilities that support play.

Part 2: Team Selection Principles

Introduced by first team manager Stuart Hopper in 2003

Squad selection is at the discretion of the Managers. Where two or more sides play within the same age category, if any player declines to play in the team he has been selected for, this renders him ineligible to play for any other team on the same day.

Part 3: Football Philosophy

Introduced by first team manager Andy Brown in 2014

All managers, coaches and players across the youth and adult sectors are expected to promote and implement the 6F's club footballing philosophy, which encourages the following:

- Fitness.
- Fighting spirit.
- Formation.
- Focus.
- Finishing.
- Fun
